

Library Lab Project

Reaching Out Across the Institution

- Grants available to encourage innovation
  - Ours: build exhibit cases to highlight library resources and connections with research
  - Cases are being custom built by the staff of the Harvard Museum of Natural History
  - Will be placed in lobby of major research building
  - Researchers, other libraries, students will be invited to participate in designing exhibits
  - NSF outreach requirement
  - Foster collaboration and strengthen relationships

Suggestions

- Reach out to researchers, colleagues in other libraries, students
- Find a place for a display; it can be a spot on a bulletin board and a handout holder
- Look for high traffic areas, either inside the library or elsewhere. Set up a small display on a table in a cafeteria etc.
- Rethink, repurpose an existing display case
- Partner with local museums; establish new relationships
- Highlight library resources, not just collections; tie in with current research
