

April 27, 1972

Dr. Max Cowan, Editor
Journal Comparative Neurology
Department of Anatomy
Medical School

Dear Max:

This is in answer to your inquiry concerning the preparation of a Cumulative Index for the JCN. I think this is an excellent suggestion. Such an index would enable me to locate essential publications in my special field, neurogenesis, with a minimum of labor and a great saving of time. Since the JCN has been the most prestigious journal in the area now called "neurobiology", for over eight decades, most investigators in the Neurosciences would undoubtedly be able to locate key references in their field of specialization which would then carry them further in their search of literature. I recommend strongly that the Editorial Board follow up this project; I would strongly support an application for a grant-in-aid.

Sincerely,

Viktor Hamburger
Professor Emeritus of Biology

VH/o