

The University of Chicago

Department of Zoölogy

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS
December 12, 1939.

Dr. Viktor Hamburger,
Department of Zoology,
Washington University,
St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Hamburger:

I am delighted to have your polished looking manuscript on the skeleton of nerveless and poorly enervated limb transplants. I shall let you know the action of the editorial board as soon as possible.

The autumn has gone with its usual rapidity and we are approaching final examinations and all the bother of winding up a quarter's work.

Shall I be seeing you at the Columbus meetings? The Zoologists' extensive program came yesterday but I have not yet had time to inspect it thoroughly and so do not know whether you are on the program.

Mrs. Allee joins me in sending our personal regards to you and to Mrs. Hamburger.

Cordially yours,

W. C. Allee.

WCA:ES

Eutlich is making a good impression here.